Defiance Told To Committee

Labor Leader Asserts Senate Investigation Is Not Proper

WASHINGTON (AP)—A top official of the giant Teamsters Union today challenged the authority of senators investigating alleged labor racketeering and refused to answer their questions.

Einar O. Mohn, executive vice-president of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, the nation's largest union, said he didn't believe the Senate Investigations subcommittee had "proper authority" for the inquiry it has launched.

Kadar Paper Denounces Rebel Action

Newspaper Scolds For Liberalism On Accused Rebels

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP)—Premier Janos Kadar's newspaper today denounced some state prosecutors for "intolerable liberalism" in dealing with accused rebels.

The newspaper Nepszabadsag scolded the prosecutors, although 24 death sentences have been pronounced and other revolutionaries have been hauled before courts for long prison sentences.

Nepszabadsag said the prosecutors' liberalism was "based either on sham humanism or simply on opposing the policy of the government. Whatever the reason for it, this so-called liberalism causes grave political harm and hinders the restoration of order and legality. It opens the way for our enemies to commit new crimes."

The demand for greater ruthlessness was made as a newspaper editor and a playwright were indicted on charges of inciting rebellion, hiding firearms and other crimes. The indictment followed last night's decree banning the Federation of Hungarian Writers, a group influential in shaping the Oct. 23 anti-Soviet revolt.

Kadar declared Wednesday, in the presence of Red Chinese Premier Chou En-lai, that he would "liquidate the remnants of the counter-revolution."

This liquidation is proceeding on many fronts and in numerous court rooms.

Radio Budapest reported that Kadar's army had discovered a new revolutionary plot near Tapolca in western Hungary. The alleged ringleader was a "big land owner" named V. Horvath. Police claimed to have found hidden weapons.

The indicted newspaper editor is Gyula Obersovszky, who edited Igazsag (Truth), a paper published during the October revolution. The indicted playwright is Jozsef Gali, a young man whose drama was played in the Budapest National Theater last year. Both were arrested in November, after the Russian army crushed the revolt. Gali was taken from his sickbed in a Budapest hospital, together with his fiancée, a doctor in the hospital. She was later released.

Bomber Crashes

EL PASO, Tex. (AP)—A B-57 bomber crashed while landing at Biggs Air Force Base near here yesterday, killing its two crewmen and injuring a civilian worker.

Trenton Gets Grant

TRENTON, Mo. (AP)—The Health, Education and Welfare Department has approved a federal grant of $139,096 toward construction of a sewage disposal plant for Trenton.

City officials were notified of the department's action by Missouri senators yesterday.

Total estimated cost of the project is $523,859.

FLASHES

Global B-52 Flight

MARCH AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—Three Air Force B-52 Strato-jets, potential carriers of the hydrogen bomb, completed the first jet bomber non-stop round-the-world flight at 10:19 a.m. PST today.

The mammoth planes, refueling in the air, made the historic 24,325-mile flight in the unofficial time of 45 hours, 19 minutes.

This was less than half the 94 hours, 1 minute required by the propeller-driven B-50, Lucky Lady II, on the first non-stop globe-girdling journey in 1949.

Boyd Massey

Boyd Massey To Head '57 Heart Drive

Campaign in Sedalia To Be Held During Month of February

The selection of Boyd Massey, Federated Mutual Insurance Co. representative, to serve as Pettis County chairman of the 1957 Heart Fund Campaign which is to be conducted throughout the month of February, was announced today by the state chairman of the Heart Fund, Chester G. Starr, Jefferson City.

Massey is a member of the Rotary Club and Toastmasters Club in Sedalia and chairman of the membership renewal committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

"In Pettis County last year there were 376 deaths from all causes, including accidents. Of these deaths, 210, or 55.9 per cent, were caused by diseases of the heart and circulatory system. This fact alone is convincing proof that heart diseases are the foremost local health problem, as well as the foremost national health problem," said Massey in accepting the chairmanship.

The purpose of the annual drive, he declared, is to support the association's research, lay and professional education, and community service programs.

"I am proud to have been selected to head the Heart Fund drive because I think the heart-disease problem is the leading threat to the nation's health, and most deserves the support of the people of our community and our nation," Massey said. "But equally important," he added, "it is the health field that the people in this community, and in communities throughout the country, must know more about."

The Arab states, Russia, the United States and Israel herself all appeared agreed on this main goal—with variations.

There seemed little doubt the Assembly would give solid approval to an African-Asian resolution calling on Hammarskjold to report completion of Israeli withdrawal within five days.

U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. announced support of the 24-nation resolution but went a step further. He recommended that U.N. Emergency Force units move in at once to fill the breach left by Israeli withdrawal from the Gaza Strip and the strategic Sharm el Sheikh area, commanding the Gulf of Aqaba waterway to southern Israel.

He voiced hope Hammarskjold would come up soon with a plan for deploying the emergency force along the Egyptian-Israeli line and in the Sharm el Sheikh area.

Russia's V. V. Kuznetsov also supported the withdrawal resolution after accusing Israel of indicating she intends to stay in both Gaza and the Aqaba Gulf keypoint. He also charged the Eisenhower Middle East doctrine was being used as a mask to cover up "imperialistic" American designs in that area.

Governor Leaves Mansion Future To Legislature

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—Gov. James T. Blair Jr. says the future of Missouri's executive mansion is a matter for the Legislature.

The governor reiterated at his news conference today that he and Mrs. Blair "have no present plans to move into the mansion. That has not changed."

Then he told reporters he and Mrs. Blair discussed the matter last night and decided there would be "no further statements or discussion" of it.

"Each of us is much more interested in financing the foundation school program, the needs of badly housed people in our eleemosynary institutions, the program for retarded children and other very pressing matters which demand financing by the state."

The governor said he would like to "respectfully request" no further speculation about the Blairs' decision to continue in their Fairmount Boulevard home in Jefferson City, where they have lived for 26 years.

Blair said all public functions, required by custom or statute to be held in the Mansion, would continue to be held there as usual. And a resident staff will be kept on duty to show visitors through the drafty, historic, 86-year-old building.

Blair said he would not make any recommendations of the future of the mansion since that is a legislative problem. Several Legislators have suggested the state should build a modern residence for the governor and turn the present mansion into a museum.

See Food Shortage For Hungary

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—U.N. observers reported today that revolt-torn Hungary faces a severe food shortage and 12 per cent unemployment by midyear.

The four-man mission visited Budapest Jan. 4-7 to look into relief needs as a result of the rebellion against Soviet domination.

The group said that to stave off the food shortage Hungary needs 440,000 tons of various foods; 14,500 tons of seed; and 10,150 tons of chemical fertilizer.

The food items included 400,000 tons of wheat; 20,000 tons of sugar; 10,000 tons each of lard and talow; and 5,000 tons of lemons.

The observers approved a suggestion from the International Committee of the Red Cross, which has been distributing U.N. relief goods in Hungary, that Hungary be given the needed foods and farm supplies but that they in turn be sold to the Hungarian people through normal economic channels and at "the basic average world prices."

The Red Cross and the observers recommended that the funds thus realized be paid to the Hungarian Red Cross for "assistance to the needy, hospitals, social institutions and related welfare programs as well as operational costs of the relief program."

The International Red Cross Committee also recommended that Hungary be provided 260,000 tons of coal for hospitals, schools and other institutions.

The U.N. group said free distribution of the relief supplies would be difficult if not impossible and would be "undesirable on general economic grounds."

Channels for distribution of free supplies are mostly in the hands of the Soviet-supported Communist government. Some refugees have charged Communists were faking better than others, but the mission said it found the Red Cross job "exemplary."

The latest list of merchandise includes such things as a dress form, two electric irons, sewing basket, 30 half gallons of milk, 20 angel food cakes, 20 loaves of bread, antique lamp, toy sewing machine, compact, cigarette case and an evening purse.

Considers Driving License Law Requiring Tests Often

FIRE FOLLOWS EXPLOSION—Flames shoot from the Panhandle Eastern Pipeline Company compressor station in Liberal, Kans., after an explosion that killed three men and injured 12 others. The blast was believed to have been caused from gas leaking from a broken pipe in the engine room. (NEA Telephoto)

Second Such Case in Three Days—

Iced Furnace Vent Causes Close Call With Death for Sedalians

A screened vent to a gas heater became closed because of frozen moisture and carbon monoxide backed up into the house over-coming A-1c Marion C. Crocker, 21, and his wife Nancy Jane, 16, at 1421 North Osage, early Friday. The couple and their three-month-old baby were found by members of a car pool when they stopped for Crocker.

The family was rushed to Bothwell Hospital, where oxygen was administered. They were admitted to the hospital for further observation.

A-2c Charles Simms, Jr., 212 East Cooper, stopped by the small cottage at the Howard cabins to get Crocker. Simms said he arrived there about 6:15 a.m. and waited a few minutes. When Crocker didn't come out, he knocked and tried to awaken him and when Crocker didn't answer, he drove off to get the other riders.

After picking up S-Sgt. P. H. Sheeley, 504 Sunset Drive, A-2c J. K. Menzie, 804 West Third, and A-2c Al Bartos, 1218 South Ohio, they returned to the cottage for Crocker. When they failed to arouse anyone and heard the baby crying, one of the men went to Mrs. Emily Howard, who rents the cottages, and obtained a key.

Unlocking the door, they found Crocker lying on the floor near the door, and inside the house in a small bedroom was Mrs. Crocker stretched across the bed, and the baby was in its crib. Mrs. Howard took charge of the baby. The men opened the doors to air the place out and notified the police.

Officers John Reives and Jack Coutts, who answered the call, carried Mrs. Crocker out of the tightly-closed bedroom and laid her on the floor in the doorway of the front room near her husband, where she could get fresh air.

Crocker and his wife were rushed to the hospital in the Ewing ambulance, while Officer Reives and two of the airmen took the baby to the hospital in the police car.

In the meantime, Simms left and summoned Mr. and Mrs. William Vinson, 2400 South Ingram, parents of Mrs. Crocker. Crocker's home is in Union, S.C.

All of the airmen are stationed at Whiteman Air Force Base and are attached to the 340th Field Maintenance Squadron.

Checking the vents on the gas heater, it was found one heater vent went out the east side of the building and over it was a fine screen to keep out birds. Moisture from the heater had collected on the screen, frozen and sealed the opening.

Officials of the Missouri Public Service Co. warn users of gas to check or have checked the vents on their gas heaters and furnaces to see they are open at all times.

The counties in the Council are Pettis, Benton, Saline, Morgan, Cooper and Howard.

Blair Says Stringency Is Necessary

Highway Conditions Governor Explains Changed Greatly,

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—Gov. James T. Blair Jr. said today he is seriously considering asking the Legislature to pass a driver's license law that would require everyone to take driving tests every two or three years.

"We all know there are many people driving automobiles who couldn't pass a driver's license examination," Blair told his news conference.

He said the present Missouri law should be made "more stringent" and changes are needed "both in the administration and the way it works."

Conditions on the highways now, he noted, with increased traffic and faster cars, are vastly different than they were when the original driver's license law was passed.

The new governor said he also is "seriously considering some form of speed law."

Blair noted that many suggestions have been made, including the possibility of giving the Highway Department authority to zone different areas for different speed. But "it would be a very difficult task to enforce that."

He said he might have several recommendations affecting highway safety, beyond his campaign pledge to ask that the strength of the Highway Patrol be increased from 355 to 600 uniformed men.

Blair said his present plans call for submitting his budget message to the Legislature next Wednesday or Thursday when he returns from the Eisenhower inauguration.

Bills to carry out the governor's recommendations would be introduced immediately by Rep. Joseph W. Martino (D) of St. Louis, House appropriations chairman.

Then, the following week, he plans to submit his overall recommendations for the state government and the changes he has already discussed with House and Senate members of both parties.

"I'll probably have to take two whacks at it," he said, "since it covers some 30 fields."

Without going into detail, Blair said his budget for appropriations on a one-year basis—would be over $400 million. Of this amount, appropriations from general revenue (tax money) would total between $138 and $189 million.

State agency requests for the two-year period starting July 1 totalled over a billion dollars — about $200,000 higher than for the current fiscal period.

Macmillan Adds Faction Leaders

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Harold Macmillan brought into his government at junior level today the leaders of two Conservative party factions which clashed over Middle East policies.

Macmillan named 29 parliamentary secretaries and undersecretaries who will serve as assistants to the 18 Cabinet members and 22 other senior ministers already selected. The list includes representatives of various shades of opinion within Conservative ranks — clearly an attempt by Macmillan to bury the old divisions that haunted Sir Anthony Eden's last weeks in office.

The Prime Minister appointed Sir Edward Boyle, 33, a leading spokesman of the party's moderate wing, parliamentary secretary to the treasury in protest against the abortive British and French invasion of Egypt last November.

Julian Amery, 33, was named parliamentary and financial secretary to the War Office. Amery, son-in-law of the Prime Minister, was a leading figure in the Conservative rank - and - file group which supported the Egyptian invasion and then turned against Eden for agreeing to a cease-fire. Amery's group opposed that led by Boyle.

Freight Cars Derailed

LIMITA, Tex. (AP)—Six cars of a Missouri-Pacific Railroad freight train derailed here yesterday after one car dropped an axle shaft.

Four tank cars overturned and spilled fuel oil on the tracks. There was no fire.

Crews restored service late yesterday.

At Reception by Red China Premier—

Khrushchev Alters His Opinion; Calls Stalin Model Communist

MOSCOW (AP)—Communist party chief Nikita Khrushchev, who called Stalin a mass murderer last February, now says the late dictator was a model Communist fighter for the working class.

Khrushchev made his latest declaration of Stalin at a reception given for Kremlin leaders last night by visiting Red Chinese Premier Chou En-lai. It was in keeping with Khrushchev's startling defense of Stalin at a New Year's Eve banquet in the Kremlin.

As the Chinese plied their guests with Soviet brandy and Chinese wine, Khrushchev grabbed a microphone to declare that he is a Communist.

"But some people say you are a Stalinist," Soviet Premier Bulganin interjected.

"I am a Stalinist," Khrushchev asserted, "but I don't separate Stalinism and Stalin from communism. As a Communist fighting for the interest of the working class, Stalin was a model Communist."

"We have criticized Stalin," he continued, "we still criticize him, and if necessary we will do it again. But we do not criticize Stalin as a bad Communist as far as the interests of the working classes are concerned."

"Stalin had his bad points. Lenin saw them before we did and pointed them out. They were borne out. The defects were bad. But in the things that counted, that is the interests of the working class, God grant that every Communist should fight for the interest of the working class as Stalin did."

Loud applause went up from the audience, which in addition to the Soviet leaders included diplomats from countries that have recognized Red China. Western newsmen also attended.

Khrushchev, flailing his arms while his listeners laughed and applauded, continued his defense of Stalin and rejected Stalinism as a term of abuse. Bulganin tried to get him away from the microphone, but he kept speaking. The party boss denounced capitalism, saying its death is as inevitable as the fact a pregnant woman must give birth.

Chou gave the party for the Soviet bigwigs after a flying trip to Hungary and Poland.

Fabulous Tale Of Uranium Is Related

The marvels of scientific research in which was incorporated the fabulous uranium story was told by Luther Gable, prospector, inventor, scientist, teacher, in a talk before the Sedalia Knife and Fork Club meeting in Bothwell Hotel Thursday night.

President C. F. Scotten announced that the club's next meeting would be held Friday night, Feb. 1 instead of Feb. 4 as reported in the last bulletin. He then called upon Dr. J. Briggs Rice who introduced the speaker.

For more than an hour Dr. Gable held his audience's attention with his rapid-fire talk that ran the gamut of research and accomplishment in the scientific field in as exciting and informative program as the Knife and Fork Club has ever had.

He related his personal experiences in the world-wide search for uranium and the contributions scientists have made in development of atomic power, taking his audience behind the scenes and predicting the new power engines would be working universally within a decade. Atomic power can be the "kill or cure" of our civilization, he said.

Gable illustrated his talk with drawings illuminated by black light, one of a uranium power plant. He whizzed them through a lecture course which left his audience breathless in anticipation of the world-wonders to come for the benefit of mankind, providing mankind solicits guidance and respects the Divine source from which it comes.

President Scotten called upon William B. Rich, chairman of the committee on nominations, with Don M. Lamm and George H. Scruton, to make a report. The names of six candidates for directors were submitted. Three will be chosen by the club at its next meeting.

Effect of Aid In Italy Told To Kiwanis Club

How a mutual security and economic aid program helped stem the tide of encroaching communism in post-war Italy, was told by A. J. Mulvihill, city manager of Slater, at a meeting of the Sedalia Kiwanis Club in Bothwell Hotel Thursday noon.

The speaker recently spent two years in France and Italy as person in charge of Mutual Securities Economic Aid for Foundations. He pointed out the early difficulties encountered in getting management cooperation to make cost studies, final accomplishment of this project, and correction of production lags because of 8 cent an-hour wage scales which had contributed to stimulation of conditions leading to the dominance of communism.

He also gave a brief outline of experiences and observations of arts and culture in many Italian cities he visited.

The speaker was introduced by Norman Pitcairn, program chairman.

Mike Giokaris, president, presided. Invocation was by the Rev. Edward R. Sims. Singing was led by Abe Rosenthal, with Miss Lillian Fox, as accompanist.

Charles Ussery, Winston-Salem, N. C., was a guest of John Snodgrass.

KRCG-TV Uses Maximum Power

KRCG-TV, Channel 13, in Jefferson City is now operating on maximum power of 316,000 watts, according to an announcement by Robert Blosser, general manager.

The boost to maximum power has added several thousand homes to the CBS affiliate's coverage area. Sedalia homes are receiving a clear television picture from the Capital City station, officials said.

Along with the power increase, stations officials announce the purchase of a package of feature films from the Twentieth-Century Fox Corporation. Effective Sunday, January 20, the new features will be telecast at 9 p.m. each Sunday evening.

Included in this most recent addition to the KRCG-TV program line-up are such top-notch features as "How Green Was My Valley," "Kiss of Death," "Foxes of Harrow," "Drums Along The Mohawk," and many others.

Reds Are Accused Of Selling Red Cross Supplies in Hungary

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The Soviet-dominated government in Hungary stands accused of selling Red Cross relief supplies in a letter written by a Hungarian bishop and smuggled from the country.

The Rev. John de Gyarmathy, pastor of St. Stephen of Hungary Church here, said today he received the letter Tuesday and that it was written Jan. 8.

"The gifts of the Red Cross, I am sorry to say, are being sold in times out of 10 by the Soviets—nothing for the people—and the Bolsheviks' government sells them for money," the letter said.

The letter stated that Russians have increased their guard on escape routes to prevent Hungarians from fleeing and that only persons able to pay big bribes can hope to get across the border to Austria.

"All of our country is nothing but a big market, dear brother, where the hungry people and the people fighting for liberty sell their few belongings to get a chance, possibly to save their lives," the letter said.

The name of the bishop and the city where he lives were not disclosed.

Cold Weather Halts Garbage Collections

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Garbage collections may begin here today after a four-day lag caused by the city's coldest weather in two years. Warmer weather was predicted.

Collections were halted Monday and held to about one-third of normal the next three days.

Complaints have come from householders but garbage collectors explained the garbage freezes in cans when the temperature drops below 15 degrees and can't be dislodged without damaging containers.

WCS Takes Offering For Hungarian Relief

Senators Call For Inquiry On Drouth Aid

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two Democratic senators yesterday told the Senate they want an investigation of Agriculture Secretary Benson's drought relief programs.

Sens. Symington (D-Mo.) and Humphrey (D-Minn.) criticized drought relief administration, and Humphrey said he would insist Benson come before Senate Committees to explain why Benson had denied Missouri farmers drought aid.

Symington said Benson and other Agriculture Department officials had refused to act upon requests from himself, Humphrey and the governor of Missouri.

Humphrey characterized Benson as a "rough, tough" politician who "plays for keeps." The senator said Benson had engaged in "unbelievable political manipulation" of farm committees operating farm programs in Missouri.

Symington told the Senate he would offer a congressional resolution directing Benson to grant drought aid to Missouri and other drought areas.

Sen. Goldwater (R-Ariz.) said Missouri farmers had received more than 13 million dollars worth of federal drought aid through last October. He said Missouri farm income from crops and livestock was 933 million dollars during 1956.

Forecast for Women's Spring Clothes Sees High Hats, Longer Hemlines, Slim Look

OUT THEY GO: Some of New York's top designers call the "pot" hat, shown here in three versions, the most unbecoming fashion item of 1956. For 1957, they'll be high and slanting.

By GAILE DUGAS
NEA Women's Editor
NEW YORK (NEA)—A poll of the world's leading designers indicates that the big hat will be out for spring, 1957, and the high hat in skirts will be slightly longer.

COMING IN: Claire McCardell's current resort collection shows new length for '57.

the slim silhouette still important and colors bright and gay.

Designer by designer, this is the way the poll goes:

Pauline Trigere: The costume is coming in place of a wardrobe of unrelated singletons. Women are getting more "go-with" minded all the time. Colors will be gay and bright in 1957 but women will avoid a gaudy effect by their concentration on a well-planned and effective color scheme. I believe that hats will become less important and jewelry more important and that more of it will be worn, even in daytime.

Norell: I hope the big "pot" hat is gone forever as it was the most unfortunate and unbecoming hat of 1956. I predict that high

Off-Street Parking Survey Begins

The spell of near zero weather engulfing Sedalia and environs this week retarded, but did not stop, the current survey of parking facilities and their use.

Inventory is in progress to determine all available facilities as an initial step toward fruition of Sedalia's off-street parking program.

This phase of the survey should be completed by January 29 according to Traffic Engineer Joseph Feuchter. After that date there will be started what is known as curb-side interviews with motorists who park their vehicles in the downtown district.

Motorists will be approached by interviewers who will ask three related questions: 1. From what location did your trip start? 2. After parking what is your destination? 3. For what purpose was your trip made — to a point of employment, to shop, or for recreation?

The purpose of these interviews is to obtain material for an analysis of parking demand, usage, timing and other factors which play a vital part in the survey to determine the areas where off-street parking facilities should be chosen.

So that this survey may be unimpeded, Sedalia and area motorists are asked to cooperate with the interviewers by answering the questions. An uninformed person might suspect the interviewers were attempting an invasion of the rights of privacy, but this is not the case at all. Motorists should respond seriously and informatively so that the business of getting off-street parking facilities for Sedalia may move along with alacrity.

The mechanics of getting off-street parking for any community involves many time-consuming details. Some communities, like Columbia, are becoming impatient with delays encountered and are pressing for more action.

Sedalia can avoid many obstacles to final realization of downtown off-street parking facilities by genuine cooperation with those charged with the responsibility of bringing it about.

One of the first things our people can do is give polite reception to the interviewers they will encounter on the downtown streets soon after Jan. 29.

Stassen Gets Spanked On Disarmament

By DREW PEARSON

How accurate Drew Pearson was in his prediction regarding Sir Anthony Eden is indicated in the Pearson column of January 2, 1956, a little over a year ago. Predicting for the new year on that date, Pearson said: "Sir Anthony Eden, whose health is worse than the public realizes, will take a much less active part in the British government. The chief duties of prime minister will be performed by R. A. Butler, and by late 1956 or early 1957 Eden will resign."

WASHINGTON—The public doesn't realize it, but the latest American disarmament proposals were sent to the United Nations only after heated backstage bickering in Washington. The friction was chiefly between John Foster Dulles and Ike's disarmament adviser, Harold Stassen.

It partly involved the vitally important problem of trying to entice the Russians out of Hungary, Poland, and other satellite countries.

The Stassen-Dulles jockeying match has reached the point where the two men, to put it mildly, are not fond of each other.

Trouble between them reached a climax in mid-December following receipt of the last Bulgarian note to Eisenhower on disarmament. Stassen believed it offered genuine opportunities. He called a "background" — a semi-off-the-record conference in which newspapersmen are given the view of high officials with no right to quote the views of those officials. Here he told newsmen the Bulgarian note for the first time accepted, in part, the Eisenhower "open skies" proposal and offered optimistic possibilities for a genuine disarmament understanding.

Newspapers next day blossomed forth with page 1 headlines. It looked as if the United States and Russia were moving toward disarmament and peace. This was in mid-December.

Next day in Paris, Secretary Dulles, reading the headlines, held a "background" of his own. He called in pet members of the press and threw down Stassen's optimism—again not for quotation.

Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey was with Dulles in Paris. Prompted by Dulles, he too got into the "spank Stassen" act. Privately he complained to the White House, on his return, that Stassen was interfering with Dulles's conduct of foreign affairs.

Would Russia Leave Hungary?

Essential difference between Stassen and Dulles was that Stassen wanted to explore the possibility of Russia's withdrawing from the satellite countries. He read into the Bulgarian note a possible Kremlin move for a graceful way out of the Hungarian mess.

If the Soviet leaders could sign a disarmament agreement whereby the United States pulled out of its NATO bases in Europe, Stassen figured the Russians might jump at the chance to save face and get out of Hungary, Poland, and the other satellites.

Some State Department advisers agreed with Stassen. They wanted to probe the situation further. But Dulles did not. He got his way. A curt note was sent Bulgarian that future disarmament proposals should be conducted through the United Nations.

Accordingly, the next American proposal was

Guest Editorial—

THE ROWE BUDGET (Baltimore): The Basis Of Real Peace. Several years ago I was a guest at a dinner at which Professor Einstein was present. There had been a discussion of the potential effect—good and evil—of atomic fission. Someone asked, "Well, Professor Einstein, how are we ever going to get a better world?" His reply came slowly: "You have to have better people."

Here is a paragraph that I read recently: "Nothing is more necessary for the stability of the world, if it is not to perish completely, than some universal rededication of minds. Universal harmony and peace must be secured for the whole human race. By peace and harmony, however, I mean not that external peace between rulers and peoples among themselves, but an internal peace of mind inspired by a system of ideas and feelings."

That paragraph might have been written today. Yet it was written by Johann Comenius who lived from 1592 to 1671.

Surely one of the prime purposes of education is to train young people to get along with others peacefully and cooperatively. The real basis for the kind of peace that Comenius wrote about was laid down long ago: Do unto others as you would have them do unto you.

put before the UN this week. Ironically, it contains many of Stassen's ideas, though it didn't give Moscow any opening for a graceful withdrawal from the satellites.

Ironically, also, it goes a long way toward adopting the Adlai Stevenson proposal for banning H-bomb tests which Ike had blasted so vigorously and vociferously during the election campaign that it made the voting public believe Stevenson was incompetent to handle these problems.

NOTE—Stassen works harder, gives more thought to disarmament than anyone else in the administration. He is also the most boycotted. Dulles shuns him as much as possible. Nixon, still resentful over last summer's opposition, is cold. Eisenhower still stands up for Stassen. But the tragedy is that the problem of peace, so precious to the American people, is caught in a bitter clash of personalities. Shortly before Christmas, for instance, Stassen pleaded with Eisenhower to let him fly to Moscow for direct negotiations with the Russians on the "open skies" proposal. Eisenhower turned him down, said this should be handled through the UN. Real reason for his veto, however, was John Foster Dulles who doesn't like to have Stassen taking the lead in disarmament.

Preparing for Flood

According to the President's Committee on Education Beyond High School, enrollment in the nation's colleges is expected to double within the next 15 years. The chief reason: the booming birth rate of the past two decades.

Obviously the schools aren't equipped today to handle such a load. They will have to expand mightily, and now schools will have to be added, if the problem is to be met.

Even now, for a variety of reasons, we are not turning out enough engineers and scientists to fill our needs. It can be well imagined under what handicaps this country would work if in 5 years we do not have the facilities and the teachers to produce the far greater number of specialists that will then be required.

Anyone can guess the big stumbling block. It is money. So huge are the requirements involved in doubling the capacity of our colleges that only two main sources of revenue seem practical — government and the business world.

How the responsibility is to be divided between government and business, and between the various levels of government, is a matter that should be speedily determined. Clearly the responsibility cannot be escaped if we are to prepare the nation for its future.

Chiang Talking Big

Congressmen who have visited Formosa recently say that Nationalist Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek is talking big about an early return to the Chinese mainland.

At this distance one must conclude that Chiang's present purpose is to shore up the morale of his Nationalist troops, many now long denied the chance to see their homeland.

Certainly nothing said by President Eisenhower or any Washington member of his official family would justify Chiang's optimism. Without U.S. air and naval support, the Nationalists would be embarking upon one of the most foolhardy military adventures in history.

Chiang must know this. What is harder to understand is the report that American military and diplomatic representatives on Formosa are giving unqualified support to the idea of a Nationalist invasion.

Clearly they would not publicly undercut the generalissimo in statements he may make to bolster Nationalist morale. But if they give earnest private endorsement to the plan they may convince him it has full support in Washington and is therefore really workable.

Mr. Eisenhower and his top advisers have given no indication they hold such a view.

Thought for Today—

And they will deceive every one his neighbor, and will not speak the truth; they have taught their tongue to speak lies, and weary themselves to commit iniquity.

—Jeremiah 9:5

All deception in the course of life is, indeed, nothing else but a lie reduced to practice and falsehood passing from words into things.—South.

New Switch Is Example of Emotionalism

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—Communist party boss Khrushchev could work on a railroad. He's a national born switchman. But the switch he pulled last night was another example of the emotionalism, and confusion, in the Kremlin.

The Soviet brandy and Chinese wine, flowing freely at a big reception, may account for his reference to "God" and a hereafter in Moscow which is supposed to be the citadel of atheism.

But Khrushchev, who last Feb. 25 denounced Stalin as a mass murderer and mental monster, said: "As a Communist fighting for the interest of the working class, Stalin was a model Communist."

He said this was not inconsistent with what he had said last February. And in a sense it wasn't. For in that speech less than a year ago, a speech which shocked the Communist world, Khrushchev had also said:

"In the past Stalin doubtlessly performed great services to the party, to the working class, and to the international workers' movement."

So the real switch in Khrushchev's performance last night was not so much in what he said of Stalin as in his attitude toward Stalin. His February speech was mainly denunciation, with a fragment of praise. Last night it was almost all praise, although far briefer.

"In the things that counted, that is the interest of the working class as Stalin did," he said.

Noting later that some of those present might not want to join him in the toasts he proposed to the Chinese Communists, he said, pointing heavenward: "If you do not, it will be counted against you in the final reckoning up there."

The fact that he shifted his attitude toward Stalin is evidence of the impulsive and all-considered attack he made on the dead leader in 1956 and that now he and his friends in the Kremlin think it necessary to change their tactics.

When Stalin died, those who took over were heirs to a myth: the whole Communist world, inside and outside Russia, had been trained to regard Stalin as the infallible fount of goodness and wisdom.

His heirs, to do their job, needed devotion to themselves. The memory of Stalin stood in their way. That was one good reason for trying to demolish his image. But there was another.

In the new phase of the cold war, with the "spirit of Geneva" still pervading the world, they were anxious to erase the memories of the ferocity and barbarisms of Stalin in order to make com-

Progress In Combatting Common Cold Is Slow

By Edwin P. Jordan, M. D.

In a study of illness in a group of Cleveland families it was found that about two-thirds of all illnesses were of a respiratory nature (the breathing apparatus) and that about 95 per cent of these are of unknown cause. About 40 per cent of all illnesses could be classified as common colds.

The confusion in the field of illnesses of the respiratory tract is apparent by the large number of names used: Common cold, nasopharyngitis, laryngitis, common respiratory disease, gripe, catarrh, fever, febrile catarrh, acute respiratory disease, tracheitis, bronchitis and primary atypical pneumonia.

Bearing on this subject is a report in one of the medical journals on a study of four kinds of acute respiratory infections: Acute respiratory disease, non-bacterial pharyngitis, primary atypical pneumonia and the common cold. Evidence accumulated in recent years suggests that these are separate illnesses, probably caused by viruses, but that each type may be caused by more than one kind of virus.

With regard to acute respiratory disease, it was pointed out that a gripe-like illness resembling influenza viruses, has long been known to occur in military recruits and other population groups. The outstanding feature is its gripe-like nature and its epidemic occurrence in winter months among military recruits but not among seasoned men.

Among hospitalized patients the infection is acute in onset, characterized by fever and symptoms such as chilliness, loss of appetite, irritated throat, hoarseness and cough. The cause has not been definitely identified, but the disease can be transmitted by appropriate methods and is believed to differ from both the common cold and primary atypical pneumonia.

Nonbacterial pharyngitis is a disease which is both mild and short-lasting and characterized by symptoms of sore throat, hoarseness and cough, with nasal symptoms less conspicuous. This disorder was perhaps first recognized in children particularly in the summertime. Here too, there are reasons for believing that this is a separate respiratory infection differing from munism seem more palatable.

But they did it so suddenly that they didn't take time to prepare Communists inside or outside Russia for this startling reversal.

The result: a series of explosions inside Russia itself, in the satellites, and in the Communist parties around the world.

These events caused Russia more loss of leadership and control of world communism than Stalin had suffered in all the years between the 1920s, when he took command, and 1953 when he died.

Stalin's heirs had to do an about face or, perhaps, face disaster through a continued loss of control. One method, apparently the only one which seems possible, was to reinstitute the iron rigidity of Stalin's day.

What Khrushchev did last night was to try to justify Stalin, a first step toward a return to Stalinism.

The masters of the Kremlin have been credited with coolness and shrewdness and of knowing always where they were going. The events of this past year do not bear out this picture of them.

the others under review.

Space forbids discussion of primary atypical pneumonia at this time.

With regard to the common cold, progress in study has been discouragingly slow. Part of this is the result of the lack of a suitable susceptible laboratory animal and part the difficulty of recognizing the common cold and distinguishing it from similar illnesses because there is as yet no laboratory method of confirming the diagnosis.

It is probable, as pointed out in the article in question, that many of the problems of the common cold will not be solved until the virus or viruses responsible have been isolated and characterized. Nevertheless progress in this difficult field is certainly being made.

Odds and Ends By News Staff

THE CHRISTMAS program for the Melita Day Nursery children had been quite a wonderful thing and one of the things they did was to say "The Lord's Prayer." One little girl said the prayer while two other little girls knelt on either side of her. One day after Christmas Connie, Debbie and Judy were out in the yard with one of them saying the prayer and the other two kneeling. Another thing they liked was the little song, "Away in a Manger," and so the three of them were singing it, all kneeling, with Connie leading the song.

They sang the first verse and when they had finished Connie started singing again, the other two going along, but Connie was singing the same verse over again. They were about half through when one of the little girls stopped and looked at Connie a little disgusted.

"We don't sang that once," she said, and she wasn't about to sing the same thing over again.—H.L.

Newsprint Price-Increase Affecting Small Business

by Maurice G. Boehl of our Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON — Soaring prices in newsprint industry have Senator Charles Potter (R-Mich.) calling for a Senate investigation.

"American newspapers, especially the smaller ones, face most serious repercussions as a result of this latest price rise. Small businesses are discovering that their advertising budgets buy less and less. This situation will force many of them to the wall unless we take action," Potter stated in a letter to Chairman Warren G. Magnuson of the Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee in which he urged the investigation.

The Michigan Republican cited figures on profits of Canadian mills where "eighty per cent of the newsprint used by American publishers" is produced. Two firms, he said showed profits over 50% above comparable periods one or two years earlier. "Other Canadian companies show a similar profit picture," he charged.

"Their skyrocketing profits invite a legitimate question as to whether they are obtained at the expense of purchasers in the United States," Potter stated.

The recent $4 a ton increase announced by Abitibi, Consolidated and St. Lawrence, three Canadian newsprint producers, provided the latest basis for Potter's request.

He has also conferred with Judge John Gwynne, Chairman of the Federal Trade Commission, who called on Potter to report on the Senator's request that the FTC study the situation. Judge Gwynne stated that the FTC took a "very grave view" of developments in the newsprint industry and agreed an investigation is needed.

Small Changes You Make Give You Feeling of Home

A new house doesn't feel like home until—

You know where to lay your hand on the things you use every day and quit going through a "Now where did I put that?" routine.

You have your pictures hung and your knickknacks placed just where you want them.

You can cook a meal with a minimum of effort. This means you have probably rearranged the kitchen at least three times since you have found it would be handier to have this here instead of there.

Your dog finds his favorite spots for stretching out or curling up as he follows members of the family from room to room. You have planted at least one shrub in the yard with your own hands.

You've rearranged the furniture at least once—after you have discovered that arrangements which looked all right to the eye weren't as livable as they might have been.

You've met some of the neighbors—and have traded a few vital statistics.

Your mail starts coming correctly addressed.

You give or write your new address and telephone number without hesitation, without having to stop and think that they've been changed.

You've begun to plan what you are going to do to the house and yard in time to come.

You've had your first guests to a meal, met them at your new door and welcomed them into your new home.

Then that, which for a lonesome bit of time has seemed just a house, suddenly begins to feel like home.

Crossroads Comment

by G. H. S.

A story is told by David Cameron in Tracks Magazine of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway:

"When a truck was opened at the Saragumines, France, railroad station recently, a shipment of pigs was found stretched out, unconscious. The truck had hit a bump breaking open the pig pen and a wine barrel. The freed porkers became dead drunk after swilling the leaking liquor."

We suppose the moral to this is: Don't be a pig.

An item out of Washington states that Former President Truman at a Democratic party dinner laid down a test for a good Democratic politician:

"The press has always been against the Democrats, and they haven't changed a damn bit. I want to say to you that a Democrat is no good unless he has the press against him."

Would Truman apply that test to Governor James T. Blair of whom there is no more solid Democrat extant, and who had practically the entire press of the State of Missouri behind him in his election campaign?

Come, come, Mr. Truman, let's not be so vindictive about the press. Even Drew Pearson is giving you pats on the back lately.

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Diefenbacher, D.D.

The water pipe was frozen. It burst and a few drops of water fell on the basement floor. We called the plumber and found that he could not come for a couple of hours.

We want service. Emergencies call for immediate attention. We have come to classify a few drops of water as an emergency. "For want of a nail a kingdom was lost" according to a bard of yesteryear.

God is expected to come to our rescue as quickly as the plumber. Yet we forget Him day after day. Possibly you and I appear as emergencies to Him. It is likely that He wants our prayers and our love now.

We put off God and our fellow-men, but expect everyone else including God to care for our real and imagined emergencies without delay.

Sunday School Lesson Notes:

By William E. Gilroy, D. D.

When the French revolutionist, Camille Desmoulin, was on trial and was asked his age, he replied: "The same age as the sans culotte Jesus." The implication was that Jesus in His day, too, had been a revolutionist.

It must be plain that Jesus, as a Jew in relation to Judaism, did effect what was virtually a spiritual revolution. But it must be equally plain that such a revolution was through positive, constructive action and teaching. Jesus was not a rebel.

Jesus said distinctly that He was "not come to destroy, but to fulfill" (Matthew 5:17).

If He set His "I say unto you" against what had been said by "them of old time," it was an advancement from the law of measured justice, "An eye for an eye, and a tooth for a tooth," to the larger law of love and mercy. That was the only way to constructive and better relationships from the jungle of mutual recrimination and revenge.

The rights and wrongs of what is happening today in the Near East in the conflict between Israel and Arabs are not easily determined.

But one cannot help feeling that the constant reprisals -- the raid or incident answered by raid and incident -- is endangering the whole world with war. If either side could once forgive and forget, there would be far more hope for the nations and peoples concerned, and for the world, in its quest of peace and safety.

Very definitely it was fulfillment, rather than destruction, that Jesus sought in relation to the religion which had been that of His home. His teaching, and His environment.

This was emphasized in the very beginning of His public ministry, initiated in the act of baptism.

When Jesus saw "Jerusalem and all Judea, and all in the region

LaMonte Captures Thriller

Edges Warsaw 73-71 in Loop Tilt Thursday

LaMonte High eked out an exciting 73-71 basketball victory over Warsaw in a PCAA Conference game Thursday night, but it took some doing.

The lead shifted back and forth in the early stages of the contest, LaMonte taking the initial quarter lead of 23-15 with Warsaw bouncing back into contention in the second period and assuming a 37-36 edge at the halftime. The two teams then settled into a meticulous point-for-point battle that carried into a 57-57 deadlock at the three-quarter mark. The climactic play continued through the final frame when the teams finally gained a two-point edge to win by a nose.

Files was the big gun for LaMonte, dumping 27 points for individual honors while Reavis assisted with 19. Bonner led Warsaw with 18 followed by P. Teeter with 16 and Burton with 15.

Burke and Burford were the officials.

icans to Washington every four years.
The weather is traditionally bad in Washington on Inauguration Day. If it isn't raining, it's usually freezing cold. In 1841 William Henry Harrison caught a cold while standing bare-headed at the inauguration ceremony and died a month later.

Connecticut Leader Appears to Have Lead For GOP Chairman

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republicans maneuvering toward the choice of a new national chairman weighed today the effects of a telegram which later was branded as "fraudulent."
H. Meade Alcorn Jr., Connecticut national committeeman, appeared still to have the inside track to succeed Leonard W. Hall Feb. 1, but the name of former Sen. Harry Darby of Kansas was entered in the speculation by some who prefer a new chairman from the West or Midwest.
Several others also have been mentioned, among them New York State GOP Chairman L. Judson Morhouse and Presidential Asst. Howard Pyle, a former governor of Arizona.
Harold E. Stassen described as "false and fraudulent" yesterday a telegram purportedly sent by him to 40 or 50 GOP National Committee members say, "The time has come for liberals to take a stand." But not all those to whom it went are considered in the party's liberal wing.
The telegram urged support of Alcorn for the post, but could have had the opposite effect by stirring antagonisms within the party.

everything, whatever the weather. The three networks — ABC, CBS, NBC — are going all out to provide full inauguration coverage next Monday.
ABC and NBC begin their coverage at 11 a.m. (Eastern Standard Time) and CBS at 11:30 a.m. Cameras will pick up the Presidential party as it leaves the White House and then switch to the Capitol. There Chief Justice Earl Warren will swear in Eisenhower, and Sen. William F. Knowland (R-Calif.) will administer the oath of office to Vice President Richard M. Nixon.
The President is expected to deliver his inaugural address about 12:20 p.m.
While the presidential party has a brief luncheon in the Capitol, network newsmen will offer commentaries. The inaugural parade will form about 1:15 p.m., the President riding at the head of it to the White House, where he will review it with government leaders.
It will be a spanking fine parade of about 20,000, including troops and Republican dignitaries, with floats and massed bands and close order marching and some of the fancy new weapons of the services.
At some time after 11 p.m. CBS-TV and NBC-TV will train their cameras on the four inaugural balls in Washington.

Colorado Legislator Asks Smog Control, Radiation Protection

DENVER (AP)—Protection from radiation in Colorado's uranium areas and control of smog in industrial sections was asked today by a woman legislator.
Rep. Jane Woodhouse (D-Denver) said smog is becoming a pressing problem and "we don't want Denver to become another Los Angeles or Pittsburgh."
The woman lawyer introduced a bill to give the state health department power to set "scientific and health measures to protect areas from air pollution and radiation."

160 Snow Plows Ready

WASHINGTON (AP)—The District of Columbia will have 160 snow plows handy next Monday just in case it snows on President Eisenhower's second inaugural day.

About 5,000 Officers Of Law at Inaugural

WASHINGTON (AP)—About 5,000 law-and-order specialists will be on duty during President Eisenhower's inaugural Jan. 21.
Their primary concern: the safety of the President and other officials. Their next worry: pickpockets.
Otherwise, officers said minor infractions will go unpunished on this special day.
The lineup of uniformed and plainclothes security personnel now includes about 2,200 Washington metropolitan police, 120 Secret Service agents (about half called in from posts out of town), 180 Capital Park police, 1,400 soldiers and National Guardsmen, 100 White House police, 150 Capitol police, 400 Washington firemen and 100 out-of-town policemen.

Ingrid Flies To New York For Award

By ANDREW BOROWIEC

PARIS (AP)—With a lump in her throat, Ingrid Bergman flies to the United States tonight for the first time since she began her self-imposed exile seven years ago.
"I can't help being emotional about the trip," she said in her hotel suite before the departure. "I love New York and I miss it terribly."

She will be in New York just 36 hours — long enough to receive the New York Film Critics' Award as best actress of 1956 and to see "My Fair Lady," the Broadway hit musical.
"I've been wanting to see that show for months," explained the actress. "Friends have been giving me records of 'My Fair Lady' and this will be a wonderful chance to see it."

Then she will rush back to Paris — leaving New York Sunday night — in time for the curtain on Monday night's performance of Robert Anderson's "Tea and Sympathy," the play in which she is starring with great success. The play will close for three days so Miss Bergman can make the trip.

The blonde, Swedish-born actress has not been in the United States since she left to make the film "Stromboli" with Roberto Rossellini in Italy. She and the Italian film director had a son and then married after Miss Bergman's divorce from her American husband, Dr. Peter Lindstrom.

Her daughter by Lindstrom, Jenny Ann (Pia), is a college student in Colorado but Miss Bergman says her visit will be too short for them to have their first meeting in years.

"To see Pia," she explained, "I would need a lot of time and privacy. I couldn't very well do it with all the publicity and television that will undoubtedly accompany my trip."

Sitting in the living room of her hotel suite surrounded by her three children by Rossellini — 7-year-old Roberto and 4-year-old twins Isabella and Ingrid — Miss Bergman insisted she is perfectly happy with her European career.

"Movies are made all over the world, not only in America," she said. Then, as an afterthought, "But maybe one day I'll return to America."

She said she is still getting fan letters "from all over" the United States. "Apparently they're not very angry with me," she laughed.

Consul Tells Sorosis Of Germany's Postwar Problem

Dr. Hans F. Schweigmann, consul of the Federal Republic of Germany, German consulate, Berlin, Germany, spoke on "Germany Today" at Sorosis Monday afternoon.

Dr. Schweigmann is consul in Kansas City for the states of Missouri, Kansas and Colorado. He supplemented his remarks by use of a map of the "new" Germany stating that in reality the Germany of today differs greatly from the Germany of 20 years ago in size, economically and politically.

Twenty years ago it was dictatorship, now it is a democracy as the western section is now the Federal Republic. Germany has been divided now for 12 years. It is one-half of its former size, about 90,000 square miles, just a little larger than the state of Missouri and has a population of 50 million.

The central part of Germany is one-fourth of its former size and is what we call East Germany with Soviet leadership. The extreme eastern part of Germany was given over to Polish domination by the Yalta and Potsdam agreements and in those sections there are few Germans left.

In the Russian dominated section there are 17 million people. Ten million refugees have escaped into West Germany and an average of 200,000 refugees a year are still escaping into West Germany.

Dr. Schweigmann said anyone could see the problem of 10 million refugees coming into a country as badly shaken up as Germany was after the World War. The problem of giving shelter, clothing, food and work to so many was immense but this problem has been mostly solved and the country is now very prosperous.

The comeback has seemed almost like a miracle but the development can be traced to certain factors. The first factor was the currency reform in 1948. Before this money had not been worth much, there was no incentive to work for so little and there was not enough raw materials and food, but now the currency is on a sound basis.

The Marshall Plan, said Dr. Schweigmann, put Germany on its feet. It made possible the buying of food, and also all raw materials necessary for establishing production. Since 1948 and 1949 there has been no recession.

The third factor was the economic policy and the lifting of all controls on industry. The industriousness and thriftiness of the people helped much. Wages were increased and industry expanded and now there is practically no unemployment.

Foreign trade has increased, exports now amount to about 30 billion marks (7 or 8 million dollars). The imports are not as high but a good balance has been maintained.

Germany's gold reserve is higher than before the war. The country is densely populated. The country has few raw materials except coal and practically no natural resources so the country must have foreign trade. Gaining back the trade markets was a great factor in the recovery of Germany.

One of the problems in Germany is rearmament as the country was completely demilitarized. Germany, after becoming a member of NATO with equal rights and responsibilities, has had to amend the constitution, change laws, rebuild all barracks, air fields, even organize new draft boards.

The most serious problem in Germany is reunification. Dr. Schweigmann said it is clear to all Germans that this cannot be brought about by force, but must come about by peaceful means. He hopes there will be a way through the UN. Although Germany cannot belong to the UN the Germans wait hopefully and patiently for reunification.

Dr. Schweigmann was introduced by Miss Kathryn Spangler, current topics chairman.

Mrs. Harold Dean presided over the meeting. Mrs. William Rich, art and drama chairman announced that the speaker next week will be Burl Sammons, who will speak on Southern Regional Architecture. Colored slides of beautiful homes and gardens of Natchez will be shown. There will be a luncheon, with reservations to be in by Friday.

Before she went before the jury for a three-hour appearance, Marie told newsmen that "it's my prayer that it will issue John Doe indictments against the two men" she accuses of kidnapping her.

But grand jury members said, unofficially, that after receiving instructions from a district attorney's representative the jury was unable to agree on an indictment.

The case was handed to the jury when the Police Department announced that it was unable to uncover evidence to prove or disprove Marie's story.

After she left the jury room Miss McDonald, "The Body" of film publicity fame, embraced her recent escort, British actor Michael Wilding. Then she talked privately with her attorney Jerry Giesler.

Wilding appeared briefly before the jury, as did movie columnist Harrison Carroll and Marie's agent, Harold Plant.

After the actress disappeared Jan. 3 Wilding, Carroll and Plant received phone calls from her. She later said she made the calls from a house somewhere in the Los Angeles area where she was kept prisoner by her abductors.

Hypnotizes Amour, Suit Is Dismissed

MILWAUKEE (AP)—A balding, middle-aged hypnotist obtained dismissal of a $20,000 alienation of affections suit yesterday after he placed Mrs. Rose Werra, 43, in a trance before a judge and said softly:

"I command you to return to your former relationship with your husband. Show him respect and love. Do you understand that I will have no influence on you, that I will no longer be able to hypnotize you?"

"Yes," Mrs. Werra replied. The hypnotist, Jacob Apfel, 59, continued: "When I count five you will be fully awake and refreshed."

At the count of five Mrs. Werra opened her eyes, took her purse and left.

Thereupon Judge Harvey Neelan dismissed the suit Silverster Werra, 44, had brought against Apfel, a self-styled spiritualist who said he got his education "by candlelight, like Abe Lincoln."

Werra agreed to withdraw his action if Apfel would end his relationship with Mrs. Werra through posthypnotic suggestion in the court's presence.

Werra charged Apfel had won his wife's affections by convincing her that he and Mrs. Werra were married in 1776 during a previous life.

Apfel contended Mrs. Werra was the medium and that she had told him of their previous "marriage."

Werra said a spiritualist had told him his wife could be returned only if Apfel would "break his spell" over her. Apfel denied he had any power over her but that he was willing to "take the imaginary harness off."

US Establishes New Atomic Age Units

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States is organizing something new in atomic-age military units—special missile-equipped forces designed to back up formations of American and Allied troops.

One such unit—now called the "Southern European Task Force"—already is stationed in northern Italy. Pentagon officials said five others will be established.

The six will be designated as atomic support commands. They will average about 6,000 men each.

Military officials said the unit now in Italy is armed with Corporal and Honest John Rockets. The new Redstone ballistic missile, which has a 200-mile range, is to be added, along with conventional weapons.

More Snow, Cold Weather Is Seen For Most of US

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

More snow and continued cold was the wintry weather outlook for broad areas of the country today.

The season's longest cold wave — more than a week in some Midwest and Eastern areas — has brought record low temperatures and heavy falls of snow.

Nearly a foot of snow fell yesterday in the Buffalo, N.Y., area as a near blizzard whipped off Lake Erie. Snow fell during the night and early morning in most of the Great Lakes region and southward into the Ohio Valley and also in the middle Mississippi Valley.

Heavy snow was expected off the east end of Lake Ontario, with lighter amounts for central New York and sections north of Albany. New England also was in the path of the snowstorm.

Colder air extended southward into the South Atlantic Coast states and only extreme southern Florida was out of the frigid belt. Temperatures were below freezing along the middle Gulf Coast region with readings near freezing extending into extreme northern Florida.

Richmond, Va., reported record low marks of 8 above for both yesterday and today. Readings near or below zero were general again today in most of Pennsylvania and New York and northward into New England as well as across the northern Great Lakes into the upper Mississippi Valley.

City Council Refuses To Ban 'Baby Doll'

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—A request by religious groups to ban the showing of the controversial movie "Baby Doll" was turned down by the City Council. City Atty. Carlos Cadena advised the Council that no present Texas statute or city ordinance gives them authority to censor movies. The film opened yesterday at a downtown theater.

Judge Rules Against Police, Legislature

SANTA FE, N.M. (AP)—The Legislature favored a 70 m.p.h. speed limit. The state police wanted a 60 m.p.h. top. A court test resulted in the judge ruling, in effect, that any speed was okay if it was "reasonable and prudent." But don't step on the gas passing through. State police say they don't think anything over 60 is either reasonable or prudent.

Residents Call Army Depot by Same Name Regardless of Change

OGDEN, Utah (AP)—Then there's the saga of the Army's supply depot here. Its name was changed yesterday for the seventh time in its 16-year history.

In 1941 it started as the Utah General Depot. The next year, it became the Utah Quartermaster Depot. By 1943, it was the Utah Army Service Forces Depot. Then in 1946 it became the Utah General Depot again.

The next year it was the Utah General Distribution Depot, but it reverted to the Standby Utah General Depot in 1948.

Yesterday, the Army came up with this one: "U.S. Army General Depot, Utah."

Unimpressed, Ogden residents continue to call it simply "Second Street." It's located there, and the odds are it can't be moved as easily as it can change its name.

Confederate Veteran Observes Birthday; One of Three Living

DEFUNIAK SPRINGS, Fla., (AP)—His eyes for a pretty girl undimmed by the years, Confederate veteran William A. Lundy observed his 109th birthday today.

Hundreds of his neighbors planned to be on hand to help him celebrate.

Lundy, Florida's only survivor of the War Between the States, will hold court at the Walton High School gymnasium. Fifteen Florida and Alabama radio stations are scheduled to carry a description of the birthday party.

The white-haired Lundy was a member of the Alabama Home Guard during the Civil War. His job was to defend the courthouse at his home town of Elba, Ala. Two other Confederate veterans survive: John Salling, 110, Slant, Va., and Walter W. Williams, 114, of Franklin, Tex.

The last Union soldier, Albert Wilson of Duluth, Minn., died last summer. He was 109.

Geraldine Page, stage and screen star, used to recite Shakespeare while working as a thread winder.

Chou Alleges West Attempt To Split Reds

Reaffirms Red China's Ties With Soviet, Denounces Ike Manifesto for Middle East

MOSCOW, Jan. 17 (AP)—Premier Chou En-lai accused the West today of trying to loosen the ties of Communist countries with the Soviet Union. He promised the leaders of the Kremlin that Red China will "exert all its efforts to strengthen the eternal and indestructible ties between us."

Just back from visits in Warsaw and Budapest, Chou made crystal clear in a speech the alignment of Red China behind the Soviet Union in its campaign against "national communism" in Poland and Hungary, or wherever it may arise.

Khrushchev Lauds Stalin As Model Red

Reverses His Stand After Denunciation Of Dictator in '56

MOSCOW, Jan. 17 (AP)—Communist party boss Nikita Khrushchev tonight praised Stalin as a model Communist in his fight for the workers.

Nearly a year ago Khrushchev denounced the late dictator as a mass murderer, assailed "the cult of the individual," and questioned Stalin's communism.

Roar of approval by the audience and wild applause by visiting Chinese Premier Chou En-lai greeted Khrushchev's statement at a reception given by Chou for Kremlin leaders.

The party chief was needed by Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin. With Soviet brandy and Chinese wine flowing freely in toasts of friendship and mutual praise, the red-faced, ebullient Khrushchev grabbed a microphone to make a speech that began:

"FOUGHT FOR WORKERS"
"I don't need to say that I'm a Communist."

Bulganin interrupted: "But some people say you are a Stalinist."

"I am a Stalinist," Khrushchev whipped back, "but I don't separate Stalinism and Stalin from communism. As a Communist fighting for the interest of the working class, Stalin was a model Communist."

"We have criticized Stalin, we still criticize Stalin as a bad Communist as far as the interests of the working classes are concerned."

HAD HIS DEFECTS
"Stalin had his bad points. Lenin saw them before we did and pointed them out. They were borne out. The defects were bad."

"But in the things that counted, that is the interests of the working class, God grant that every Communist should fight for the interest of the working class as Stalin did."

The audience roared approval again. It included foreign diplomats who have recognized Red China. Western correspondents were present.

The Soviet party and government leaders looked more cheerful and acted more playful than at any other time in public since the Hungarian revolution broke out three months ago.

Reward Is Small For His Service

Jerry Platt of St. Joseph, son-in-law of Mrs. F. J. Creagan, 401 West Seventh, recently found a billfold containing $800 and returned it to the owner who offered him a reward—but more about that later. Platt found the billfold on a shelf of the telephone booth at the Robidoux Hotel. Upon examining it he found that it contained $800 in 100- and 50-dollar bills. He immediately took it to the hotel manager, who contacted the owner. The owner, who was very grateful, said he had been looking for the billfold for two hours, and as a reward he offered to buy Mr. Platt a drink. Mr. Platt refused.

Governor Blair Named 'Democrat of the Year'

SIKESTON, Mo., Jan. 17 (AP)—Weber Gilmore, president of the Young Democratic Clubs of Missouri, announced today that Gov. James T. Blair Jr. has been selected by the organization as its "Democrat of the year."

The newly-inaugurated governor will be guest of honor and speaker at a breakfast meeting of the Young Democrats in Springfield Feb. 23, Gilmore said.

LINK IS STRONG

Chou addressed a mass rally of Soviet workers who turned out in his honor in the Kremlin Palace. Soviet Premier Bulganin echoed Chou's words that Soviet-Chinese friendship was eternal. Nikita Khrushchev, the Soviet Communist party chieftain who has been visiting in the hinterlands, was present but did not speak.

Chou went straight down the Kremlin line in blaming the Hungarian revolt on "Western imperialists." He denounced President Eisenhower's Middle East doctrine and the British-French intervention in Egypt.

He made no reference to his discussions in Warsaw. There have been indications Chou did not reach complete unanimity of views with Polish leaders.

ENDORSE SOVIET ACTION

In Budapest, Chou and Premier Janos Kadar signed a joint declaration that set forth Red China as fully agreeing with the action of the Soviet Union in using its armed might to crush the Hungarian revolt.

Chou declared that "imperialists are still trying to interfere in the affairs of Hungary through the United Nations. They are also trying to inflame nationalistic feeling in Socialist states with demagogic slogans of freedom and democracy in order to break the unity of the Socialist camp."

ASSAIL IKE POLICY

Bulganin expressed appreciation of the stand taken by Chou. Both Chou and Bulganin assailed President Eisenhower's new Middle East policy, with Bulganin describing it as "colonialism in a new form." Chou asserted the Eisenhower doctrine was an attempt to impose "U.S. economic and political rule" on the Middle East.

"But the imperialists cannot turn back the clock," he added.

Air Force Plane Crash Is Fatal To 12 Crewmen

FAIRBANKS, Alaska, Jan. 17 (AP)—An Air Force plane with 12 crew members crashed and blew to bits in snow and pre-dawn darkness today after its takeoff on a 3,700-mile weather observation flight.

Territorial police and Air Force officers said there were no survivors.

The four-engine WB50, heavily loaded with gasoline for its long mission, crashed and exploded in all-engulfing flames two minutes after the takeoff from the Eielson Air Force Base.

The fuel and wreckage burned like an inferno along a path 200 yards long and 50 yards wide on the flat land three miles north of the base. Eielson is 26 miles southeast of this central Alaska city.

Marshall Citizens Help Him—

Local Newspaper Boy Is Battling Leukemia

Gary Laxson, 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Laxson, Marshall, is in Mercy Hospital, Kansas City, seriously ill with leukemia. Gary is a newspaper boy for The Sedalia Democrat in Marshall.

Marshall citizens have collected over $300 toward expenses and the total is mounting daily. The response for blood has been sufficient to cover the present need.

Gary is in the seventh grade at Marshall Junior High School. He has been active in baseball, basketball, and other sports.

Two weeks ago Gary complained of being tired and, when a bleeding nose could not be stopped, he was taken to Saline Hospital. Later he was transferred to Fitzgibbon Hospital. When it was apparent that his condition was serious, he was taken to Mercy Hospital in Kansas City.

Symington, Humphrey Call For Drought Relief Query

'Missouri Denied Adequate Aid'

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17 (AP)—Sens. Symington (D-Mo.) and Humphrey (D-Minn.) told the Senate today they want a full scale investigation of federal drought relief and their administration by Secretary of Agriculture Benson.

Symington said that Missouri, although hard hit by drought, had been denied the federal aid given in Texas, Kansas, Colorado and other drought-stricken states. He said Benson and other agriculture department officials had refused to act upon requests from the two senators and the governor of Missouri, all Democrats.

Symington called attention to a book "Farmer at The Crossroads" written by Benson. The senator said Benson at first refused the job as Eisenhower's farm cabinet member because Benson was a clergyman and wanted to avoid the expediency of politics.

A TOUGH POLITICIAN

Humphrey broke in and told Symington that Benson was highly respected as a politician.

"He's a good one. He's rough and tough and he plays for keeps," Humphrey said, adding that Benson engaged in "unbelievable political manipulation" of farmers' committees operating farm programs in Missouri.

Humphrey said he would insist that Benson come before Senate committees and explain why he had denied Missouri farmers drought aid. He said he also would offer a congressional resolution directing Benson to grant such aid to Missouri and other drought areas.

Symington said that when Benson took the farm cabinet job, according to his book, he promised frank and honest answers to all problems and questions.

ASKS EXPLANATION

Humphrey said he also wanted Benson to explain what Humphrey said were irregularities in the agriculture department's purchase of grain storage bins.

Sen. Goldwater (R-Ariz.) said Missouri farmers had received more than 13 million dollars worth of federal drought aid up to last November. He also said that Missouri farmers' income from crops and livestock was some $93 million dollars during the past year.

Symington replied he had been trying without success to get facts and figures from Benson and the agriculture department about drought relief.

Humphrey said he would insist that Benson come before the Senate Agriculture Committee with full details and explanations later.

Boy Fails in Plot to Extort $500,000 From Roy Rogers

AKRON, Ohio, Jan. 17 (AP)—A 14-year-old boy's plot to extort $500,000 from cowboy star Roy Rogers collapsed today. He was cornered by postal inspectors and police in the boiler room of a junior high school in nearby Barberton.

Postal inspectors said the boy admitted writing a letter to Rogers last Dec. 22, demanding he send half a million dollars, or be subjected to "moral disgrace" by the distribution to school children of "altered photographs" showing him in the nude.

One officer described the letter as "well-executed, well-written, well-framed, and well-thought out."

It instructed Rogers to send the money to "Peter Jones, baggage room, Greyhound bus station, Akron." When it had been dispatched, Rogers was to insert a classified ad in the Akron Beacon Journal's "Travel Information" section. The ad was to state: "Leaving for Spain Thursday. Need a pair of German glasses."

Rogers got the letter in Hollywood among Christmas fan mail and turned it over to authorities. Postal inspectors inserted the classified ad yesterday, staked out the Greyhound station and waited.

Israel Offers to Quit Gaza and Aqaba Areas If Protected by U. N.

Asks Hold On Rights To Areas

Conditions Laid Before the U.N. In New Debate

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., Jan. 17 (AP)—Israel offered today to withdraw from the Gaza Strip and the Sharm el Sheikh gateway to the Gulf of Aqaba if the U.N. could arrange lasting protection for Israel's rights in those vital areas. Mrs. Golda Meir, Israeli foreign minister, announced this conditional offer to the U.N. Assembly as it once again began debate on the Israeli withdrawal from Egypt.

U.N. FORCE TOO SMALL

Fresh from top-level talks in Jerusalem, she told the Assembly it would not be enough for the U.N. Emergency Force to occupy those controversial areas. She said Israel wanted guarantees, perhaps from the principal maritime powers, to protect shipping in the Aqaba area and that Israel wanted to discuss a solution for Gaza.

Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., United States delegate, answered her with a renewed and blunt demand for Israel to pull out of Gaza and Sharm el Sheikh immediately. The U. S. view is that work on a permanent settlement between Israel and Egypt can begin only when Israel has pulled back behind the 1949 armistice lines.

Lodge announced his support of a resolution introduced in the Assembly by 24 Asian-African countries. It notes previous Assembly resolutions demanding Israel's withdrawal and requests Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld to continue his efforts to obtain Israel's complete withdrawal.

U.N. TO OCCUPY

The resolution asks Hammarskjöld to report completion of Israel's withdrawal within five days. Lodge said the United States feels it is important that the U.N. Emergency Force move in immediately behind the withdrawing Israeli forces in order to assure the maintenance of the cease-fire and to safeguard the 1949 armistice agreement.

This was the first time the Assembly had debated the Israeli-Egyptian problem since Dec. 21, when Arab delegates heatedly demanded that Hammarskjöld accelerate the rate of Israeli withdrawal.

Mrs. Meir said that by next Tuesday Israel will have evacuated approximately 30,000 square miles of territory it held at the end of November when the U.N. Emergency Force first, as she said, became capable of following up Israel withdrawals.

Mrs. Meir said Israel is ready to begin discussions at an early date on a solution to the complex problem of the Gaza Strip.

Rayburn Bares Stand On Ike Mid-East Plan

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17 (AP)—President Eisenhower's economic-military program for the Middle East drew support today from Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn and Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther.

"I think we've got to give the President the military thing about like what he asks for."

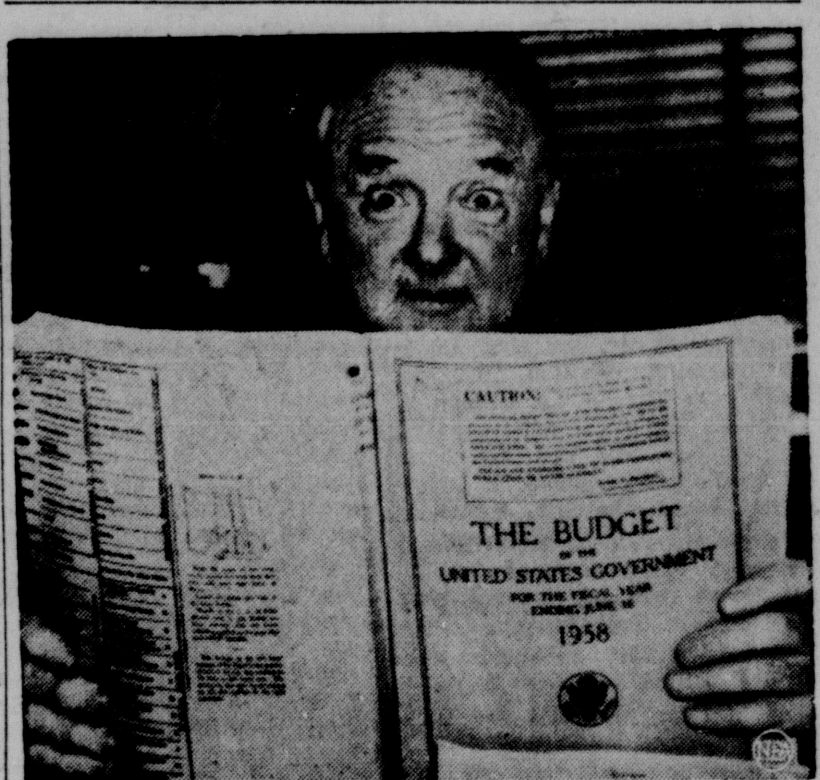

"I think it would be judicious for the Congress to seriously consider along with that giving the President authority for economic aid. And I lean very strongly toward giving it to him."

Rayburn laid down his position at a news conference, saying "I don't want any more guesses as to what my position is."

The speaker indicated displeasure at a published report he had given some support to a move to have Congress act first on the military angle, and consider aid as a separate, later thing.

"I don't want any two packages," Rayburn said.

Sen. Russell (D-Ga.), chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, said last week there was much sentiment for separating the military and economic phases.

Probe by Senate Group— Union Told to Answer Racketeering Charge

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17 (AP)—Senate investigators put the International Brotherhood of Teamsters on notice today to state whether it is encouraging witnesses "to hide and conceal facts" about alleged labor racketeering.

Chairman McClellan (D-Ark.) of the Senate Investigations subcommittee said he would expect an answer tomorrow from Einar O. Mohn, an international vice president of the teamsters union.

Mohn came before the subcommittee today but pleaded he shouldn't be asked to testify "on matters of great importance" in the absence of Al Woll, the union's general counsel.

UNION STAND QUIZZED
McClellan, declaring "I lay it on the line now," told Mohn he would be asked tomorrow "whether it is to be your policy that people are to be encouraged to come here and take the Fifth Amendment to hide and conceal facts about illegal diversion of union funds for private gain."

What incensed the senator was a telegram to 10 vice presidents of the union. It asked them to approve a policy of challenging the authority of the Senate group to investigate labor unions and their officers. The telegrams expressed the opinion McClellan's subcommittee was in "a fishing expedition."

McClellan said the wire was signed by Mohn, acting for the general president, Dave Beck, who is now traveling through Germany.

"If that's the policy of the union," the senator added, "the people should know about it and Congress should know about it."

McClellan extended a caustic invitation to Mohn to remain at the hearing "and see how some of these witnesses behave" in the light of the telegram.

BALK BY WITNESSES
Since the inquiry began yesterday five witnesses have either challenged the jurisdiction of the subcommittee or refused to testify before it.

Trustees of two New York labor union locals refused today to tell the senators whether they received an aggregate of more than $9,000 from their locals.

Local Family Is Overcome By Gas Fumes
No Ill Effects After Experience; Doctor Finds Four

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Sawyer, 1617 East Broadway and two children, Gene 9, and Darla, 4, escaped possible death Wednesday when they were overcome by furnace fumes in their home. They were found by Dr. Stanley Fisher about 1:30 p.m. and he treated them.

A strange chain of events occurred. Early Wednesday morning Sawyer called Charles Behrens, foreman of The Democrat composing room, to notify him he would not be at work. Sawyer said he was ill. Later he called the office of Dr. Fisher and told the receptionist he would like Dr. Fisher to come to his home, that the family was ill.

A neighbor called the Sawyer home, talked with Mrs. Sawyer and with Sawyer, who "just hung up the phone."

When Dr. Fisher arrived at the home, he was under the impression he was making a routine sick call. When he walked in, he found the family in a semi-conscious condition. He got Mrs. Sawyer and the children out of the house to a neighbor's and then took Sawyer out in the open air.

Sawyer stated he did not recall making any telephone calls to Behrens, the doctor or anyone else. He said when he came to at about 3 o'clock he notified his parents in Warrensburg.

Mrs. Sawyer and the two children were taken to the home of his parents in Warrensburg. He stayed with a friend Wednesday night to give their home a chance to be well aired out and have the furnace repaired.

A call to the Missouri Public Service Co. gas department was made. Its examination revealed the pipe connecting the gas furnace to the flue had been stopped up when a damper had slipped down, closing off the furnace outlet to the flue. Closing of the pipe connection forced the fumes to back out the furnace and into the home.

Music Club Hears Noted Pianist

Wednesday, Jan. 9, will be a day long remembered by members of the Helen G. Steele Music Club who were privileged to hear James Gregory, pianist, in recital at the Heard Memorial Club House.

With the first few notes one was aware he was master of the keyboard. In his opening number, "Gigue" by Haesler he displayed perfect gradation of tone and finger control.

The pianist's most outstanding performance was in the Chopin's "Sonata in B flat Minor." Here is a work that demands not only a deep intellectual understanding but also a gigantic technique to project thoroughly the meaning.

In direct contrast it was a joy to hear fingers so strong yet so sensitive to coloring as was displayed in the Debussy group, which was played with all the delicacy and style required by the composer.

The recitalist closed his program with two numbers by Brahms which were well demonstrated. As an encore he played "The Maid and the Nightingale" by Granados. James Gregory has the ability to become the living image of the music he is playing. He is a pianist of marked accomplishment and unusual promise.

The meeting was presided over by Mrs. E. F. Yancey, life president, with Mrs. William Hurlbut acting as chairman for the day. Assisting hostesses were Mrs. Olen Monsee, Mrs. Jack Herndon and Mrs. William Hurt. Mr. and Mrs. R. Hansen from Kansas City were special guests.

The first half of the program consisted of Haesler's "Gigue" and "Sonata in B Minor" by Chopin. After an intermission, Mr. Gregory returned to play three selections by Debussy—"Reflets dans l'eau," "Homage a Rameau" and "L'Isle Joyeuse"—and two Brahms pieces—"Intermezzo in E Minor" and "Rhapsody in E Major."

Education Is Discussed By A. A. U. W.

"Education In Our Changing Times" was the theme of the American Association of University Women's meeting held Monday evening, Jan. 7, at the home of Mrs. Alhel Bangert, 1303 South Montauk.

The program, under the direction of Mrs. Annabelle Lee, consisted of a panel composed of Mrs. Mabel Howe, Mrs. Annabelle Lee, Mrs. Polly Ann Sillers, Mrs. Gladys Vaughan, Miss Marion Keens and Miss Minnie Murphy. Each member of the panel discussed some phase of education. The topics discussed were the founding and work of the National Education Association; the history and development of Sedalia's Public Schools; reading and its progress in new teaching methods; effect of television programs on today's children; and the history and organization of the American Association of University Women. It was interesting to note that this organization, which is limited to women from colleges having high scholastic standards, has now grown to an organization of 140,000 members.

During the business meeting preceding the program, Mrs. Thelma Cook, president of the Sedalia chapter, announced that Christmas greetings had been received from Judith Blythin, the American Field Service student from England, sponsored in Sedalia by the AAUW last year. Christmas greetings were also received from the Norwegian parents of Kristian Kolberg, the American Field Service student in Sedalia this year, also under the sponsorship of the Sedalia AAUW.

Further planning was done on the summer programs, which would permit students going from the United States to other countries, with the deadline for such applications being set for Jan. 30. The Sedalia chapter also voted to sponsor another student in this country next year, and it was announced that a Sedalia home already been found for the year. Final figures, released by the American Field Service indicate there are now approximately 2998 such students studying in this country, with only five of them being in Missouri, Sedalia having one of these.

It was also announced that Kristian Kolberg, the Sedalia student from Norway, will be the speaker at the next meeting of the organization.

Garden Club Council Gives Library Trees

Six new evergreens, silver blue pfitzers, enhance the library grounds and people have been wondering about them since they were planted last November.

These trees are the gift of the Council of Sedalia Garden Clubs. The presidents of the Garden Clubs Council are elected for a two-year term and at the close of their time in office each is presented with a sum of money, $50, from the Council to put on some civic project, the retiring president to choose the project.

During the years 1931 to 1933 Mrs. L. H. Hodges served as president of the Council and when she was given the $50 she looked around to see what she would like to spend the money for. She decided the library grounds needed some plantings, and she felt the Garden Clubs owed something to the library, too. During her two years, several things had been held at the library by the Garden Clubs, including two Christmas Decoration Shows. So she went to Miss Mary English, librarian, and asked her about putting out some blue pfitzers. Miss English was delighted and then one day she called Mrs. Hodges and told her the library building was cracking, there was a need for vast repairs and not to put the evergreens out at that time because she was afraid they would just be ruined. Mrs. Hodges said she would keep the money until the repairs were made and now, three years later, she is proud that she has been able to have planted at the library with the $50 given her not only the silver blue pfitzers, which everyone is admiring, but also, in the court at the back, 100 spring bulbs, an assortment of tulips, narcissus and hyacinths, which will make a bright garden at the back of the library this spring and every spring. Mrs. Hodges planted all the bulbs herself and she feels that both the pfitzers and the bulbs are in a place where all will enjoy them.

Reed Grainger Is Speaker At Kiwanis

Tracing the course of early efforts to provide a crop insurance program for American farmers, F. Reed Grainger, state director of the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation, spoke before the Sedalia Kiwanis Club meeting in Bothwell Hotel Thursday noon.

The speaker reviewed the attempts by large insurance companies to get such a program under way as far back as 1896, government attempts to get the program going during succeeding decades, until adoption of the 1949 Federal program which is now set up on an actuarial basis. Although the experimental years were not successful, the program today has taken hold in 936 counties.

Purpose of the program is to promote economic stability of agriculture covering 16 commodities. Crop insurance, the speaker emphasized, is a means of protecting the producer's investment in his crop against unavoidable crop destruction. It can protect at little cost the money invested in bringing a crop through harvest against flood, drought, winter-kill and many other hazards; it can be used as a source of ready credit (collateral assignment).

Grainger pointed out that protection covers loss due to quantity and quality and is in force without paying premium until after harvest is completed. This insurance does not protect the crop but rather the investment in the crop, and there is no provision for providing the farmer with a profit.

Under the Federal program the policy requires the insured to report his acreage and interest therein; losses are settled on a unit basis; the insured can have a loss on one unit and not another, and be paid on the unit where the loss exists. The coverage and rates reflect fixed prices per bushel each year, and the policy is transferable from one person to another.

Grainger spoke favorably about Sedalia and its ideal location for the Missouri headquarters of the Federal Crop Insurance Corp., and the part the Chamber of Commerce and Albert Newman, Pettis-County FCIC agent, played in getting the headquarters established here. Program Chairman Norman Pitcairn introduced the speaker.

James C. Leeders, who had been absent because of illness, was welcomed back by President Mike Giokaris and the club.

Birthday songs were sung in honor of John Ryan and Charles Hanley whose anniversaries are in January.

Invocation was by the Rev. Elmer L. Hobbs. Songs were led by the Rev. Arthur Schmidt with Miss Lillian Fox accompanist.

Heacock Heads Scottish Rite

Bert E. Heacock was installed Thursday night as president of the Scottish Rite Club at a dinner meeting of that organization at Wesley Methodist Church. Installing officer was Edwin Kettleson, secretary of the Kansas City district, Scottish Rite, a former Sedalian, who stated that the Sedalia Scottish Rite Club was the first one organized in the jurisdiction of Kansas City. He told the group that the Sedalia club has about 200 members and must continue to grow, pointing out that all organizations must continue to grow because the papers are full of what happens in places where there are no organizations. This club, he said, has a great influence on the community.

Other officers installed were: second vice-president, Donald C. Carter; vice-president from LaMonte, Everett Wing; vice-president from Windsor, Joseph Von Gartzin; vice-president from Warsaw, Charlie Hall; chaplain, Sidney M. Swope; secretary-treasurer, W. L. Matthews, K.C.C.H., and outer guard, Ennis Sutherland. Three officers unable to be present will be installed at a later date. They are: A. E. Messenger, first vice-president, who is very ill in the Missouri Pacific Hospital in St. Louis, and two vice-presidents, Pryce W. Fowler, Hughesville, and L. B. Beach, Green Ridge.

The meeting was presided over by Ennis Sutherland, retiring president, and invocation was by Dr. Frank O. Murphy, K.C.C.H.

The speaker of the evening, C. C. (Buddy) Faulkner, director of activities for International Supreme Council, Order of DeMolay, Kansas City, was introduced by W. L. Matthews.

Faulkner praised four men in the Scottish Rite for what they are doing for youth of the community on the advisory council of DeMolay: Ennis Sutherland, W. L. Matthews, Morton Weakley and Oma Cox, he stated they have been doing and are now doing an outstanding job in youth work here, and he stressed the fact that it is important to know what these men are doing for the youth.

Serving youth, Faulkner pointed out, is very exciting and demanding. Much time is given for this work.

He urged that people have a deeper understanding of their youth and told the story of the mother who came to him and told him that she and her husband were worried because their son didn't have any idea what he wanted to be. Parents sometimes forget, the speaker said, that a youthful mind is a youthful mind and he asked the mother to remember back if she had, at the age of her son, known what she was going to do. She admitted she didn't. Then he asked the boy to talk to him, and asked him the question: "Does the world owe you a living or do you think you should do something for yourself?" And the boy answered, "I want to do something to make the world a better place."

Faulkner felt that was answer enough, told him to enroll in the junior college near there for a general course and knew that the boy would find what he wanted and would make the world a better place. He told him that he was a human personality that he has required a million people and a thousand years to produce. He urged him to wake up the next morning and look at the new day which splits eternity apart and to look for something to do, no matter what, but to do something each day. Diligence becomes a habit just as going to school, to work, to church, to Sunday School becomes a habit and if you develop a habit it is easy to do things.

Masonry, Faulkner pointed out, also becomes a habit, mentally, spiritually and physically. These three things are tripods and some people have a fear of these tripods crumbling. All three are needed to hold us up, he said, and we should dedicate ourselves to those things we hold dear. The life of every man, he said, is a diary in which he plans to write one story and writes another, when he writes the story as he plans he has done something very rare indeed.

The entertainment of the evening was a group of four girls from Mark Twain School, Jill Ragland, Sharon Maggard, Linda Ream and Linda Pasley singing: "Bless This House," "What Is to Be Will Be" and "He." Donna Nave was the accompanist.

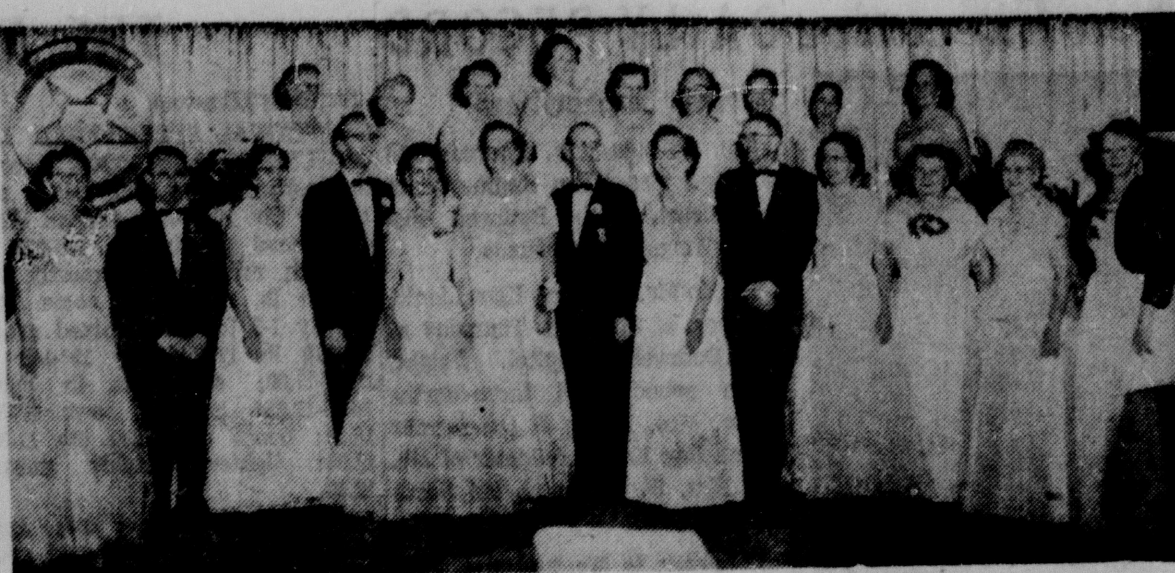

Chuck Broyles, at the piano, then played several numbers with the audience applauding for more. He responded with two encores.

Heacock, the newly elected president, complimented Ennis Sutherland on his very successful past year, and gave a brief outline of his plans for the new year. When you don't grow, he said, you slip back, you don't just stand still, and he urged all members to work for a larger membership during the new year. He introduced his two membership chairmen, Don McQueen and Dick Miller.

John Chambers, Kansas City, membership chairman for the Kansas City district, introduced the men from Kansas City who were present at the meeting in addition to Kettleson and the speaker. The men were Lee Thomas and Charlie Goings. Other guests were introduced by Sutherland.

The centerpiece on the speaker's table was an arrangement of yellow carnations and daffodils, pink roses and blue dutch iris.

No lettuce to put in your ham sandwich? Instead, add a few slices of cucumber for a crisp cool accompaniment.

Physicians Use Extension Cord In Emergency

ST. CROIX FALLS, Wis. (AP)—William Frueling was alive today because three quick-thinking physicians used an ordinary lamp extension cord to administer shock treatment after his heart stopped beating.

Frueling, 49, was on the critical list but "doing as well as can be expected" and unaware of yesterday's drama to save his life.

He was walking in the business section of St. Croix Falls yesterday when he suffered a heart attack. He was rushed to the town's small hospital.

The three physicians, who asked that their names not be used, then gave this account:

"The man's heart stopped beating. Without waiting for a washup we made an incision.

"One of us spread his ribs over the heart, reached in an massaged the heart with a bare hand. Another began giving artificial respiration. Oxygen was tubed directly into the lungs.

"The first response we got from the massage was a quivering—a spasm of the heart.

"Such a quivering ordinarily is that of a dying heart.

"We didn't have the equipment that a large hospital would have for administering electric shock so we pulled the end off an extension cord. We gave direct shock to both sides of the heart muscle twice without results.

The third shock stopped the quivering."
